

ARTISAN-TEACHERS SUPPORTING EACH OTHER DURING A TRAINING SESSION WHERE THEY LEARN NEW PRACTICAL SKILLS AND FORM STRONG REGIONAL NETWORKS.

BUILDING SCHOOL CAPACITY

NO NEED TO REINVENT THE WHEEL

Many schools have tried a version of 'hands on' engagement, but may struggle to sustain it without external support as passionate teachers move on or 'burn out'.

WHY HoL WORKS

HoL school membership means new partner schools benefit from 22 years of experience and learnings, a proven framework, methodology and support documentation, and become part of an established association of practitioners with access to valuable networking opportunities to share ideas, inspiration and best practice.

WHAT WE DO

ANNUAL CONFERENCE – Brings schools from across Australia together to learn from and inspire each other, featuring keynote speakers and workshops, practical project skill development and training, and valuable networking and sharing of ideas.

"It's the structure, method and training that's behind it that makes Hands on Learning so successful. Our staff have been able to pick it up and run with it immediately. The reflective practice at the beginning and end of the day gives students the opportunity to reflect on what they have achieved. When students are older learning achievements don't come as quickly. HoL primary allows you to have quick wins every day you do it – it's a brilliant program."

"The students are inspired by the camaraderie, by collaborating and sharing success with their peers, and excited to show off their achievements. Teachers across the school report their students return to class in a calmer state ready to engage at a higher level in the classroom."
